Line to Gulf Will Give Salt Lake a Measure of Water Competition.

SERVICE TO BE IMPROVED

PERMITTING SHIPMENTS TO THE NORTHWEST VIA GALVESTON.

it the purchase by James J. Hill Colorado & Southern, which, by bullding the connection between the C S. and the Northern Pacific, makes through outlet for the Hill sysem between the northwest coast and the guif, will mean great advantages to Salt Lake shippers is the expressed belief of C. M. Hicklin, general western agent for the Mallory Steamship line. Mr. Hicklin, who arrived in this soon as the connections are completed between the Hill roads his company will surely experience a great increase in business in the northwest and that Salt Lake will benefit through the increased facilities thus afforded for water rates. The Mallory line, he says in anticipation of the increased traffic is making some big improvements in its service, with new ships and better equipment. The line operates between New York and Galveston, and the trips given that used to consume seven days are made in five by faster vessels.

"I am not prepared to say that the water competition that will result from the added facilities for shipping by way of the gulf to and from New York to this territory will have any immediate or great effect in reducing the freight ates by train, although that may be the case," said Mr. Hicklin, "but it is certain that Salt Lake shipers must reap substantial benefits on a great many things that can then be shipped by the water route. Right now we handle a lot of freight for this territory and the northwest, but we can handle much more later on because the facil-ities will be improved and we can get goods through with quicker dis-

Mr. Hicklin is accompanied by Frank Burke, commercial agent in Denver for the International & Great Northern. whose face is familiar with most of the railway representatives in Salt Lake, making trips here quite frequently Mr. Burke also spoke enthusiastically regarding the improved facilities for handling freight into this territony by the water route when the Hill lines are connected up. His road operates in confunction with the Mallory line, and he stated that there would be an improved service over his route to western territory in the near future. At present the & G. N. operates a packet freight which connects with the Mallory line at Galveston and runs freight direct to this city from there without transfer. He reports that business in this territory for his road has been advancing very perceptibly of late, and that prospects for the future are exceedingly

Mr. Burke, in speaking of J. C. Dailey. who recently left the International & Great Northern to become superintendthe I tah division of the Denver Grande, said: "Our road was ertainly very sorry to lose Mr. Dailey. He accomplished some big things for the I. & G. N. He is a very capable man-a man of action and a man who accomplishes some good results with-out much display. He is quiet and does little talking, but he knows his business thoroughly. He is certain to prove a valuable man in his present position.
